

Qo'noS wa'

IKS Kronos One – IKC-7748

TRAITS: Klingon Starship, Flagship

SERVICE DATE: 2272

SPACEFRAME: K't'inga-class Battlecruiser

MISSION PROFILE: Strategic & Diplomatic Operations

REFITS: 2 (+1 Communications, +1 Structure)

The battlecruiser Qo'noS wa' (or Kronos One in Federation Standard) was the flagship of the Klingon fleet in the 2280s and 2290s. It was the ship that brought Chancellor Gorkon to meet Captain James T. Kirk and the U.S.S. Enterprise in 2293, on an unprecedented peace mission after the Praxis Disaster. The Gorkon Initiative, as it was called, almost ended in open war when the Chancellor was assassinated on board his flagship.

Upon his death, his daughter Azetbur was named Chancellor of the High Council in his place. The treacherous General Chang advocated for her elevation, believing (rightly at first) that her anger regarding her father's death would make it easier to manipulate her towards war with the Federation. However, she ultimately carried on with her father's desire for peace, and helped forge the Khitomer Accords. As of 2295, Qo'noS wa' serves as her flagship, just as it did for Gorkon.
